

WORLD-CLASS JOINT FIRES CAPABILITY

INDIVIDUAL, TEAM AND COLLECTIVE TRAINING

Inzpire has over 15 years' experience in delivering world class individual, team and collective training to all UK Joint Fires personnel including Combined Arms Headquarters, Joint Fires Cells, Fire Support Teams, Joint Terminal Attack Controllers (JTACs) and Tactical Air Control Parties (TACPs). We have also worked with several multi-national organisations to deliver high-end training, products and services.

Our experts have delivered over 1,000 exercises, designed more than 5,000 individual training vignettes and trained in excess of 12,000 service personnel in synthetic and live fire pre-deployment training exercises.

OUR TRAINING

Inzpire's vision is to deliver the very best live and synthetic training in the world, to single-service, joint and international customers.

The unrivalled breadth of experience and expertise of our team encompasses every area of training from high-end multi-domain 'war fighting' to human factors and decision support training.

We aim to deliver a blended solution which seamlessly incorporates an efficient and effective balance of live and synthetic training, designed to conform to international standards.

We provide an 'end-to-end' training solution; from training needs analysis to design and delivery, through to analysis via data collection and a uniquely delivered after-action-review.

Our training events take individuals, teams and collective organisations through the plan, brief, execute and debrief process, providing immersive decision-making training in high-stress environments through the provision of carefully crafted and controlled training scenarios.

OUR SERVICES

The planning and coordination of a complex multi-dimensional battle space is fundamental to mission success.

Our training is progressive, and we cover the whole spectrum of individual, team and collective training for both the soldier on the ground as well as the aircrew delivering the effects.

Our training has been proven to reduce the chances of unacceptable fratricide by enhancing the skills required to deliver timely and accurate fire from all available platforms on the battlefield.

We build and enhance our clients' confidence in planning, integration and terminal control of fires by delivering bespoke, high-value training solutions which include:

- Training needs analysis
- Establishing enduring Joint Fires training courses
- Linked Close Air Support and Attack Helicopter Aircrew training packages
- National JTAC program development
- Consolidation/currency training packages
- JTAC school development (leading to international accreditation)
- National JTAC standards development
- Collective training exercise design, delivery and review
- Basic to advanced application of Joint Fires and integration of ISTAR assets

OUR COURSES

Inzpire's air-land integration courses are designed and delivered by highly experienced ex-military personnel, each with decades of expertise both on the frontline and delivering training to armed forces worldwide.

Completion of our JTAC training, TACP course and/ or Joint Fires Observer (JFO) training will allow participating organisations to apply for inclusion on the relevant Memorandum of Agreements.

Those participating in our JTAC, JFO or TACP training will experience immersive, challenging curriculums which teach students everything from basic controls to advanced battlespace management procedures whilst increasing their ability to operate under combat pressure.
