for career opportunities
in 2019-2021

Fundamental to Inzpire's business success is its high quality people, and our experience has shown that early informal engagement with those who may be considering a career change within the next few years pays dividends by shaping opportunities while helping individuals make a successful transition to an exciting long-term future with Inzpire.

Future Opportunities

We have a strong and accelerating growth agenda across the full range of our Defence sector products and services, both in the UK and internationally.

Therefore we would be delighted to have early discussions with exceptional individuals with military or civilian backgrounds in areas such as, but not limited to:

- Experienced aircrew for live flying training delivery
  - Rotary wing
  - ISR
  - Fast jet
  - Tactical business jet
- Individual, team and collective training design and delivery across all military services
- Live and virtual training
- Intelligence training
- Airborne ISR collect
- Intelligence support to airborne ISR
- RPAS/UAS operations
- Cyber training
- Capability concept development
- Capability programme management
- Mission Data production and analysis
- Export programme management
- Information technical services
- Whole Force output delivery services

For training duties you will need to have a suitable instructional background with operational credibility. For other service delivery duties, you will need to be highly credible and capable, with relevant experience and qualifications or applicable transferable skills.

Two-Way Excellence

We recognise that a talented, highly motivated and diverse workforce is pivotal to our success, therefore we unashamedly recruit only the highest calibre individuals who share our vision and values. In return, being part of Inzpire is about being part of an amazing world class company and we are committed to being a genuine employer of choice for those who recognise that they will be looking for exciting new challenges.

Express Your Interest

Our interest is in ensuring that you get a career opportunity that is the right choice for you, so the sooner we start to talk, the sooner we can help shape your future at Inzpire. CVs are not necessary but please include reference number 19-01 and a short precis of your background together with contact details, employment field of interest, preferred region for residence and rough availability dates. By responding, you agree to Inzpire retaining your details securely for an initial 6 months.

If you are considering a change in the next few years, and think you may be an Inzpire type of person, please express your no obligation interest to careers@inzpire.com
